Gospel Meditation
January 21, 2024
3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

We start telling lies around the age of three, the experts tell us. It's understandable. Lying is a god-like power. Whatever I want, I need only say it, and the world rearranges itself accordingly. It's amazing at first. But soon reality snaps back and I'm faced with a dilemma. If I remain committed to my lie I start to fracture into pieces. My words and reality drift apart, and I find myself lost in a lonely world of further falsehoods and fear of being found out.

How marvelous, then, that Jesus begins his ministry by proclaiming: "Repent!" We tend to think it means "stop doing bad things" but it doesn't. It literally means "go beyond the mind you have." Think in a new way. It's painful to admit, but some portion of my mind is addicted to lie-telling, usually to protect my ego or make life easier. To repent means to admit this tendency, to say, "I'm done lying," and to move beyond my split mind into a complete commitment to the truth. Perhaps that's why at Mass we together proclaim, "I have sinned in my thoughts, and in my words..." Repentance and truth-telling work together.

Those who know the twelve-step process of addiction recovery know this process well. The fourth step requires radical truth-telling: listing our moral defects. This isn't being scrupulous. Rather it is freedom from falsehood, and entrance into the real world. This week, I invite you to join me in this practice. Get your phone or piece of paper. Answer the question: what are your true moral defects? Write them down. Remember, the Lord knows them already and loves you. We have a sacrament where this truth-telling is celebrated: Confession. Perhaps it is finally time to go beyond our childish lies.

— Father John Muir

St. Marianne Cope
Feast Day January 23

Marianne Cope, also known as Saint Marianne of Molokai (January 23, 1838 – August 9, 1918), was a German-born American religious sister who was a member of the Sisters of St. Francis of Syracuse, New York, and founding leader of its St. Joseph's Hospital in the city, among the first of 50 general hospitals in the country.

In 1883, the Hawaiian government was searching for someone to run the Kakaako Receiving Station for people suspected of having leprosy. More than 50 religious communities in the United States and Canada were asked. When the request was put to the Syracuse sisters, 35 of them volunteered immediately. On October 22, 1883, Mother Marianne and six other sisters left for Hawaii where they took charge of the Kakaako Receiving Station outside Honolulu; on the island of Maui they also opened a hospital and a school for girls.

In 1888, Mother Marianne and two sisters went to Molokai to open a home for "unprotected women and girls" there. She also cared for the dying Father Damien, (now Saint Damien of Molokai) and began to take over his burdens.

When Father Damien died on April 15, 1889, the government officially gave Mother Marianne charge of care of the boys of Kalaupapa along with her current role in caring for the colony's female residents.

Awarded the Royal Order of Kapiolani by the Hawaiian government and celebrated in a poem by Robert Louis Stevenson, Mother Marianne died on August 9, 1918, was beatified in 2005, and canonized seven years later.

Week of Prayer for Christian Unity 2024
January 18-25

"You shall love the Lord your God... and your neighbor as yourself." Luke 10:27

Prayer for Christian Unity

We pray, O gracious Trinity: Father, Son and Holy Spirit, that we all may be one as you are one. In your community of complete unity, we have our beginning and our end. To you we pray, asking for the gift of visible unity among all who believe in your Christ.

As we commemorate this Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, we are reminded by your Word that all human beings are our neighbors and that we are to love them like ourselves and in the same way we love you. Help us to overcome the barriers and divisions we have nurtured against your will.

Grant to us, O Lord, a new Spirit of love and solidarity, that we may proclaim your good news to all of creation. We ask this through your Son, Jesus Christ, who with you and the Holy Spirit are one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Year of the Eucharist
Step by Step Walk
Through the Mass
Fr. Luke Spannagel
Part 7: Greeting

"Hello, Joe. How are you?" When we come to Mass, we aren't just passing by an acquaintance: we are encountering and worshipping Almighty God. After the Sign of the Cross, the priest says, "The Lord be with you," or one of the other versions given in the Missal. This greeting indicates right away that what we are about to do is going to be very different from the normal daily routine. Also, it recalls that we are part of something greater—the universal celebration of the Liturgy—God with all his people.

Far from Ordinary

The universal greeting helps us prepare to enter more fully into the celebration of the Mass and helps us to realize this will be a sacred gathering with Almighty God present before us. If you think about the words, they are actually a prayer said by the priest asking that the grace, peace, love, etc., of God be with each person—now that's a way to start a gathering of God's people! The faithful then respond with their own part of the prayer, asking a similar grace for the priest by responding, "And with your spirit."

Whose Spirit?

Why do we say, "And with your spirit?" Our English translation of the phrase is actually a direct word-for-word translation from the Latin prayers of the Mass: "Et cum spiritu tuo." This phrase also clearly connects us to several places in the Bible. For example, we see the priest's greeting, "The Lord be with you," in Ruth 2:4; and we see the people's response, "The Lord be with your spirit," in 2 Timothy 4:22.

According to several saints and Christian writers, "spirit" refers not to the soul of the priest but to the spirit he has received through the sacrament of Holy Orders. As Edward Sri writes, quoting Jeremy Driscoll for support: "By saying 'and with your spirit,' the people are acknowledging the Holy Spirit's unique activity through the priest during the sacred liturgy by virtue of his ordination. As Jeremy Driscoll explains, 'The people are addressing the "spirit" of the priest; that is, that deepest interior part of his being where he has been ordained precisely to lead the people in the sacred action. They are saying in effect, "Be the priest for us now," aware that there is only one priest, Christ Himself, and that this one who represents them now must be finely tuned to perform his sacred duties well.'" (A Biblical Walk Through the Mass, p. 28).

The greeting at the start of Mass is a prayer that the Lord will be present with the people and a prayer back from the people acknowledging the spiritual gift God has given to the priest to help lead us in prayer. Now, let's pray together as God's family!

For Reflection:

Read Ruth 2 and 2 Timothy 4:19-22 to see our liturgical greetings in these contexts. Take time to meditate on these passages, placing yourself in the scenes and recognizing that you are part of a great lineage of human relationships. ~<https://www.eucharisticrevival.org/>

Society of
St. Vincent de Paul
Assumption Conference

The Assumption St. Vincent de Paul Conference Hotline number is 626-600-8464 and can be found on page 2 of the bulletin with our contact information. What happens when you call the hotline? You will hear a recording and be asked to leave a message. If you have a question the best way to reach us is by calling the hotline. The Hotline Coordinator, will listen to the messages the day they are received. We don't monitor the line constantly. It may take 3 or 4 hours for someone to get your message. Once the message is received the Hotline Coordinator will get it to the appropriate person in the Conference. If you have a basic question someone will call you back who can answer your question. Or the Coordinator might call to get some more information and a basic understanding of what you are looking for. After that, the Coordinator will pass the information along to another Vincentian who will handle your case.

If you need assistance with more than an answer to a question, two Vincentians will be assigned to your case. You will get a phone call to be interviewed and an in-person meeting may be set up. At that time, the Vincentians will explain more about the process and what the visit will entail, as well as any preparation you might need to do beforehand.

Our goal is to get to know you and better understand how we might be able to help in a manner that fosters dignity and self-determination. We can offer some material help but much of our help comes in the form of mentoring and referrals to other entities.

 Assumption Conference President

Stewardship & Today's Gospel
Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

The watchword today is "immediately." Peter and Andrew, James and John all respond immediately to the call of Christ. May I be as open to God's call and as ready to use my talents in His service as those first disciples were!

DID YOU KNOW?Guidelines for online interaction with young people

Appropriate behavior online is critical to maintaining boundaries and being a trusted adult to the young people in your care. Do not use your personal social media account to "friend" or "follow" the children you work with. Do not email from a personal email address. If you do interact with young people online, do not comment on their social media accounts or use them to obtain more information or start conversations. If your organization does not have rules about social media use for employees, work with management to put some in place.
